

PassBy, 'Gumtree'/'Facebook Market' like application

"Location-aware" application task given as coursework for the module 'Mobile Development'. I adopted a 'gumtree'/'facebook market'-like application where items being sold would appear over a map interface. The items being sold would also be listed over a list view in another tab. Again, with this application I focused on the design making sure it had a professional feel to it. The application uses Google Firebase to store posts and user information as well as Firebase Auth for an aesthetic login system. I achieved 86% for this project.
